Dedication

Miss Owens joined the staff of the Institute as Dietitian two years after her graduation in 1940. Since then her consistent life before God has been a challenge to all who came in contact with her, whether in the kitchen, or on the campus. She was called to her home recently, where her services are needed at the present. We know this is His will and trust God will lead her back to us in His own time.

MISS E. OWENS

Surely not one among us will fail to remember her as sweetly winsome and consistently joyful. Her utter selflessness and unbiased kindness has been appreciated by all. Finally, we would not forget to express our appreciation for the wholesome meals prepared under her guidance.

Therefore, we joyfully dedicate this book to one so dear to our hearts, MISS OWENS.

An abstract graphic design featuring a point of origin at the top-left corner. From this point, a series of approximately 12 thin, straight lines radiate downwards and to the right, creating a fan-like effect. These lines converge towards a large, horizontally-oriented oval shape located in the lower-right quadrant of the page. The oval is outlined in a thick black line. Inside the oval, the word "ADMINISTRATION" is written in a bold, black, sans-serif, all-caps font. Below this word, the word "COMMUNICATION" is written in a similar font, but it is rendered in a light gray, semi-transparent style, making it appear as if it is layered behind the first word. The entire composition is framed by a thin black line that runs horizontally across the top and vertically down the right side, with a short horizontal segment at the bottom. The background is a light, textured gray.

OUR GUIDE

Our God is vitally interested in us. He created us, He redeemed us, He is willing to be our Guide through life.

There comes our responsibility. "In all thy ways acknowledge Him, and He shall direct thy paths." This embraces the whole of life. We must not leave our christianity behind in our churches or schools, but diffuse it in all our ways.

And He shall direct your paths. Paths of His choosing lead ever onward and upward even if they lead through valleys of humiliation and suffering.

A graphic design featuring a perspective effect. A series of lines radiate from a single point in the top-left corner, creating a funnel shape that tapers towards the bottom-right. At the end of this funnel is a large, light-colored oval. Inside the oval, the word "CLASSES" is written in a bold, black, sans-serif font. Below "CLASSES" is a stylized, textured version of the same word, rendered in a grey, blocky font with a stippled or grainy texture. The entire composition is framed by a thin black line that runs vertically on the left and horizontally at the bottom, with a short horizontal line extending from the top-left corner.

There are people who never had a chance to hear the gospel. TEAM, with workers in 15 countries, seeks to reach not only the primitive heathen of inland jungles, but also the "civilized pagans" of nations where the gospel light has gone out. Missionaries and national workers use a variety of methods in presenting the gospel and establishing self-sustaining churches---personal witnessing, mass gospel meetings, radio programs, films, medical work, literature, youth work, Christian day schools, Bible Institutes.

Missionary volunteers and prayer supporters are needed.

Congratulations to the Grads of '55

Many former Bible School students have found the fields of the C. S. S. M. a practical training ground for further missionary service.

They have been instrumental in winning many boys and girls to Christ by means of Summer Bible Schools, Bible Camps, Home visitation, Evangelism, etc.

What will be your part in reaching the "little ones" in the days of opportunity before us?

" . . . for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

Matthew 19:14.
